Price: $4,940*

Follow in the footsteps of Lord Byron and Goethe on this the most famous stage of the Grand Tour. We will investigate how ancient Rome has influenced western thought, from Romanticism in literature to Classicism in architecture, and how it has shaped many facets of American civic life. We will observe up close the transformation of Christianity from persecuted sect (catacombs) to world religion (Vatican). By learning to interpret the rich but fragmentary evidence of an alien culture you will deepen your understanding of the complexities of our own society. In tracing the development of Rome from hill-top village to capital of the world's greatest empire, we will begin to identify the layers of the urban palimpsest and grapple with issues of urban form.

We will also visit the beautiful Bay of Naples, the playground of the ancient Roman elite, including the town of Pompeii, wonderfully preserved by the eruption of Vesuvius. We will explore the life and workings of this provincial town, from its temples and villas to its amphitheater and baths, before continuing to Florence, where we uncover the classical foundations of Renaissance art. Finally, we pause for three days in London to consider the continued influence of classicism on modern Western culture.
